The thing is fairly noised about,
And they will buy the best.

ROPE, OF ALL SIZES,
For sale by H. W. CORBETT & CO.

The Northern Pacific Railway.

[From the New York Tribune, D[illegible] ber 21st.]

While the Central Pacific and Union Pacific Railroad Companies are pushing on their roads, both from the eastern and western points of departure, with amazing energy and success, the Northern Company has as yet done little more than enlightened the country on the comparative advantages of its route over any other. The reason is plain: The former had a large Government subsidy, a loan of United States credit, while the latter has only a simple land grant. These roads lie at all points nearly six hundred miles apart, and, for local trade, could never be rivals. If there be any rivalry between them, it is because the Northern road, on account of its shorter distances and easier grades, must eventually be the great highway of international commerce between Europe and Asia, and between Asia and our Atlantic seaboard. But we do not propose to discuss the relative prospects of the roads from any point of view. The vast importance of either to the rapid and [illegible] growth of the Union, to its [illegible] and its defensive strength, is beyond any possible estimate. In the midst of the general satisfaction which hails the rapid [illegible] of the one, we simply desire to call attention to the grand [illegible] which the other is likely to command, to the stupendous [illegible] in extent and in natural wealth which it is destined to [illegible]. In the success of the latter New York and New England have a deep interest, worthy of their most [illegible] consideration. The commercial supremacy of the city of New York can never, of course, be disturbed, but it may be enhanced; and it is now perfectly evident that should the trade of Asia and the great Northwest be poured into the lakes which wash the northern boundary of the State, whatever is broken in bulk, or diverted to the Atlantic States, will be [illegible] on [illegible] to the advantage of this metropolis.

The company is authorized to build a road from the head of Lake Superior, on a line north of the forty-fifth degree of north latitude, to Puget Sound, throwing off a branch down the Columbia Valley to Portland, Oregon, from a point on the main line less than 300 miles from its western terminus. This is not only the shortest [illegible] across the continent, connecting lines of water communication, but its termini are nearer the one to Europe and the other to Asia, than those of any other. Seattle, at the head of Puget Sound, is one of the finest and safest harbors on the globe, with a [illegible] and [illegible] to the ocean. In the distance to Amoor, through Canton and Calcutta, Seattle has an average advantage of 260 miles. Besides, the prevailing winds of the Pacific compel all sailing vessels to enter the straits of Fuca; and thus, for them, Seattle has practically an advantage of 700 miles. Seattle is 300 miles nearer to Chicago by the Northern route than San Francisco by the Central; or, if we compare [illegible] to the [illegible] of lake navigation, at the heads of Lakes Michigan and Superior respectively, the difference is more than 700 miles in favor of the Northern route.

But is this route between termini so much nearer each other, and so much [illegible] with regard to the great [illegible] points of both hemispheres than those of any other, [illegible] practicable? We no longer propound the question in doubt, nor [illegible] to solve it upon imperfect data. United States surveyors, [illegible] travelers and scientific men unite, so far as we are able to learn, in declaring it not only [illegible], but comparatively easy and [illegible]. Leaving the [illegible] of Lake Superior, it will pass for 1,010 miles to the eastern base of the Rocky Mountains, through a fertile and [illegible] country, every square mile of which will sustain a dense population, [illegible] rye, corn, barley, potatoes and grass of a [illegible] quality and in great abundance. Here the mountains are crossed at an elevation 3,500 feet less than on the Central. Even on this mountain section there is much fine timber and excellent wheat lands, while the grades are not more difficult than some of those on the Baltimore and Ohio. Here the mountains are so low that the [illegible] have actually conducted the waters of the Missouri across the divide in little ditches, through the Cascade Range, just east of the Sound, which it was feared might prove a serious obstacle. The recent accurate surveys have developed three passes, either of which is entirely feasible, and the summit of the middle Snoqualmie Pass is but 3,000 feet above the sea. The snows on these uplands, unlike those on the same range a few hundred miles further south, are never more than two and a half feet deep. They do not fall soft and pack hard, but dry and light, presenting no difficulty to the snow plow. Grand lines of railroad are now in operation in various parts of the world where the snows are heavier and the climate far more severe than upon this. From a point on a line with Fort Laramie to the Pacific nature has provided the tepid winds of the ocean, and numberless boiling springs, which make the atmosphere milder and warmer, than it is eight or ten degrees further south. This road passes through no vast sage plains or sandy deserts, but through a country everywhere propitious, everywhere inviting to either the grain producer or the stock-raiser, whose most ungenial portions sustain animals in winter upon grass alone. It is intersected by four great navigable rivers. It abounds in beautiful lakes and streams of pure water teeming with fish and wild fowl. When we add to the landscape the grandeur of these boundless and luxuriant plains, agreeably diversified with water, wood and hill, the prodigal yield of food for man and beast which is there promised to the settler, it would seem that in no land under the sun can the immigrant find a more charming home.

When this road strikes the Red River of the North in the neighborhood of Fort Abercrombie, it will receive the trade of that stream which flows north into Lake Winnipeg, a body of water as large as Lake Michigan. Into the same lake falls the Saskatchewan, a magnificent stream which drains the British Territory from the Rocky Mountains to the Great Slave Lake, and giving with the Red River and the lake itself, a continuous navigation of over two thousand miles in length, whose outlet must be over this road and through Lake Superior. Again, when it reaches the great bend of the Missouri, about four hundred miles from the west end of Lake Superior, a thousand miles of that mighty stream to its north alone, from Fort Benton to the point of crossing, immediately becomes its tributary. In short, were we to state all or half the grand facts which favor the enterprise in hand, the prodigious sum of that which is possible and may be accomplished, would startle the imagination. Out of the territories of the United States it is to develop, eleven great States will be added to the Union, containing some of the richest mineral districts on the continent. Montana, Idaho, and Dakota give as yet but a bare promise of the future. While politically the British Possessions are the property of another Power, commercially they are ours if we choose to make them so; and this fact is one of stupendous importance, whether we consider their extent, their natural capabilities, or the trade they are destined to maintain. From the British line to the sources of the Mackenzie, stretches a magnificent wheat country a thousand miles in breadth; much of it open prairie, and ready for the plow.

Lake Superior projects into the far north west several hundred miles farther than any other navigable water, and at its head there will be seen a city rivaling any of those which in the ages gone by had enjoyed the commerce of the East before it. West and northwest of it the mighty area we have described, inexhaustible in its minerals and agricultural productiveness, will pour its unimagined wealth of exchanges into and through it. With fifty bushels of wheat to the acre, as we find it on the Saskatchewan, what may not be predicted of the point which, by geographical necessity, is to handle the products of a region so vast? Here will be the largest grain elevator ever seen, and that trade which has built so many flourishing cities will build another where nature has made a depot for the most extensive grain growing country on the globe.

In the Bay of Superior, at the mouth of the St. Louis, we have the largest harbor on the lake, land locked and perfectly sheltered. It now admits lake boats of the heaviest tonnage, and to what extent it may be artificially improved we do not know; but an appropriation for this purpose was made by the last Congress. A city on the point of land formed by the St. Louis and the Nemadji has an elevation of 34 feet, and will possess nearly 40 miles of water-frontage, where vessels may discharge their freights on all the four sides of a square. The distance to St. Paul, the center of northwestern railways, is only 135 miles, from Chicago it is over 350; and when you are at Chicago you are no [illegible] to the Atlantic ports than when at Superior [illegible] to connect the Upper Mississippi with [illegible] of the lakes, and the work on the St. Paul and Superior road is rapidly progressing.

In view of the facts that [illegible] pioneer [illegible], that we [illegible] nature [illegible] and that [illegible] ing proper [illegible] latitudes of [illegible] ment of the North [illegible] this generation [illegible] only faintly [illegible] Europe [illegible] the Atlantic and Pacific [illegible] Sound, the [illegible] the [illegible] importance [illegible] measured by that of [illegible]

Report on the Finances.

The [illegible] of David A. Wells, Special Commissioner of the Revenue, on finance and taxation is [illegible]. It is a very lengthy document, and [illegible] very important [illegible] and a multitude of interesting details. A review of the [illegible] of the country is given, which [illegible] is less reason for discouragement [illegible] that many have supposed. A modification of the tariff is proposed, together with a [illegible] of all taxes which materially impede production. The Commissioner points out the way [illegible] this last result may be [illegible]. It is [illegible] of Government expenditures [illegible],000 against $372,000,000 last year. [illegible] is shown to be entirely possible. [illegible] received by telegraph report that the [illegible] for this year will be brought within [illegible] thus reducing [illegible] below the Commissioner's estimate. This reduction is considered to be highly advantageous to all [illegible] of the country. The report presents [illegible] of the financial condition of [illegible] with that of other nations, [illegible] that ours is the only [illegible] of the world which is [illegible] its debt and re[illegible] and the only one, moreover, [illegible] of its ability [illegible] within any definite period, or even [illegible] the probability of such an [illegible]." [illegible] the State [illegible] the [illegible] of the war, notwithstanding the heavy taxation for national and [illegible]. Since 1865, State debts have been [illegible]:

[illegible] the whisky tax would [illegible] per [illegible] is discussed at length and [illegible]. He also [illegible] that all incomes [illegible] $1,000 or $2,000 shall be [illegible]. His [illegible] of the [illegible] which he proposes are: [illegible] $12,500,000. [illegible] the [illegible] he proposes [illegible] that the debt may easily be [illegible] the first year of [illegible].

[illegible] A day or two since [illegible] paper [illegible] published at [illegible] the [illegible] of the [illegible] for [illegible]. [illegible] on this paragraph we [illegible] the Democratic belief that the [illegible] is permanent. It is contrary to the [illegible] and [illegible] doctrines of [illegible]. [illegible] calls out the [illegible]. That paper [illegible] that the foregoing [illegible] the [illegible] are [illegible] without the [illegible] from any [illegible] or an [illegible] of the Democratic party to [illegible]. In this [illegible] the Democratic party does not believe that the [illegible] Government will be permanent. In the [illegible] and in the next column, this ad[illegible] we have [illegible] we have it. In [illegible] it is [illegible] "a falsehood" to say the Democratic party does not believe that the [illegible] Government is permanent; and after [illegible] of slip-shod writing, it is de[illegible] have no [illegible] Government [illegible] sovereignty is vested in the States, [illegible] which is a political nation, a separate, [illegible] government." In the first part of the [illegible] authority dodge" is [illegible] maintained, and in the last part it is [illegible] emphatically [illegible]. This [illegible] is another "specimen" of that valuable "[illegible] writing" which old Toots com[illegible] the [illegible] he lately addressed to [illegible] an eminent person in California.

In 1862, the Copperhead Democracy of California [illegible] a platform which went to extreme [illegible] in giving aid and comfort to treason. The following is the fourth resolution of that [illegible] manifesto:

Resolved, That the war now waged by the United States against the Confederate States is an unjust and unnecessary war, in which thousands of valuable lives and millions of treasure have been [illegible] in vain.

[illegible] says the Record, was the tone of "Democracy" [illegible] the Union. The same [illegible] by the party in Oregon, and, in [illegible], the party, as far as its leaders and the [illegible] are to be [illegible] stand there to-day.

A letter from Gardiner City (Feb. 4th) states that the coast is clear of snow there and trade is good. The mills are doing a fine business, requiring considerable shipping. A steam tug is employed to bring vessels in. The bark Samuel Merritt was being towed out over the bar, carrying 360,000 feet of lumber for San Francisco.

Cant of Democratic Demagogues.

The "address of the Democratic Committee of Multnomah county," to which we referred last week, takes up the case about bonds and taxation where the organs of the party were compelled some time ago to leave it. No editor of their party could maintain the doctrine; no lawyer among them could defend it, and not even a stump speaker could be found to support it. But this Committee, as a sort of impersonal and irresponsible body, whose members if they have any intelligence at all, would not individually undertake the defense of the doctrine which they assert in their collective capacity, puts forth an address reiterating the exploded doctrines about bonds and taxation, which the Democratic press of this State so signally failed to maintain. We do not complain of this, for if they can afford to stultify themselves in this way, no Republican ought to present any objection.

The mumping cant and puling jargon about "the poor" and "the rich," which is a distinguishing feature of the address, is worthy of notice, because it is so continually used by the self-constituted bon ton of Democracy for the basest of purposes. We allude to it again for the sake of illustrating the subject by an extract from one of Burke's letters on a Regicide Peace. Let us see how the powerful mind of this most eloquent of writers and most philosophic of statesmen, himself no favorite of fortune and no flatterer of wealth and greatness, viewed the subject before us:

This cant about the laboring poor is not as innocent as it is foolish. In meddling with great affairs weakness is never innoxious. Hitherto the name of poor (in the sense in which it is used to excite compassion) has not been used for those who can, but for those who cannot labor,—for the sick and infirm; for orphan infancy; for languishing and decrepid age; but when we affect to pity as poor those who must labor or the world cannot exist, we are trifling with the condition of mankind. It is the common doom of man that he must eat his bread by the sweat of his brow, that is by the sweat of his body or the sweat of his mind. If this toil was inflicted as a curse, it is as might be expected from the curses of the Father of all blessings—it is tempered with many alleviations, many comforts. Every attempt to fly from it and to refuse the very terms of our existence becomes much more truly a curse, and heavier pains and penalties fall upon those who would elude the tasks which are put upon them by the great Master Workman of the world, who in his dealings with his creatures sympathizes with their weaknesses, and speaking of a creation wrought by mere will out of nothing, speaks of six days of labor and one of rest. I do not call a healthy young man, cheerful in his mind and vigorous in his arms, I cannot call such a man poor; I cannot pity my kind as a kind merely because they are men. This affected pity only tends to dissatisfy them with their condition and to teach them to seek resources where no resources are to be found, in something else than their own industry, and frugality and sobriety. Whatever may be the relation, (which because I do not know I cannot dispute,) of those who would discontent mankind by this strange pity, they act toward us in the consequences as if they were our worst enemies.

Bribery in the California Legislature.

Volney E. Howard, a leading Democrat of California, has written a pamphlet charging that Casserly's election as United States Senator was accomplished by bribery. The following remarks, accompanying the piece, explain the reasons for its publication:

The author withheld this publication under the advice of political friends. A press, (the Call) known to be under the influence of the successful candidate, has virtually made it public by alluding to it, and giving the name of the supposed author. The object must be apparent: it renders publication necessary. There was no secret in preferring this charge. As soon as it was printed, a copy was shown to the successful candidate, and the name of the author given, with his consent. Conscious innocence would have indignantly demanded an investigation at once. Instead of that, his confidential friends have opposed investigation by the Legislature, and the resolution has been given a direction which they suppose had smothered inquiry. They will be disappointed. The only facts stated in this piece that bribes offered by persons supposed to be agents of the candidate, and refused by members of the Legislature, are given on the information of members, and the reception in other cases, is stated on information believed to be true. The author will make no affidavit, because he could only do so on information and belief, which would not be sufficient under the resolution. He, however, notifies Mr. Casserly, that there are three courses open to him. A prompt vindication on his own demand of investigation; an immediate resignation; or the chances of an expulsion by the United States Senate.

The Sacramento Bee, in noticing the pamphlet, says:

Such charges, coming from such a man—a leader of the Democracy, wherever he has resided, for over forty years cannot be treated lightly; cannot be turned aside by a joke, by a sneer, nor even by asserting that he is blind with jealousy, because his party preferred another to himself. The Democracy having so actively and loudly proclaimed that bribery controlled the canvass, the public cannot help so believing, unless a thorough investigation shall disapprove the allegations.

The Union, in commenting on the refusal of the Assembly to take measures for an investigation of the [illegible], says:

The Democrats of the Assembly have chosen to regard the alleged Senatorial bribery as a party question. They objected to the Senate joint resolution as a political device to bring their party into discredit. On that ground mainly they dissented from it, and would have voted for its indefinite postponement. They could not have made the matter worse for their party than they have done by thus carefully concealing it within their secret archives, and denying the right of their opponents to investigate it. Had the demand for investigation come from their opponents it would have been wisest to meet it squarely. But it has come from their own ranks. It is a squabble inside the Democratic family. Those who would conceal the corruption appear, so far, to have the best of it. This course has been taken as a partisan one. In this respect it is a grave mistake. It will serve not only to confirm the public suspicions of bribery, but, still worse, to place the Democratic party in the attitude of a protector of the guilty.

This is certainly a high old party to talk about the alleged corrupt practices of their political opponents! It seems that the very first act of the "Democracy" of California, on recovering power, is to return to their old wallowing in the mire of legislative and general corruption.

Newspaper "Respectability."

PORTLAND, Feb. 11, 1868.

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

In the issue of the Portland Herald of this date, the "official paper of the United States, Beriah Brown, editor," is published the following:

GRANT AND BUTLER.

"So clear the track, these are the heroes
The Radicals are bound to run;
'Tis not by deeds on fields of carnage
That they their party's choice have won,
But acts that better please the Loyal
Have brought them out in bold relief,
For Grant has proved their biggest liar
And Butler is their biggest thief."

I regret to say, that by a contribution of 37½ cts. per week, or $19 50 per year, I have helped sustain the paper which has the indecency to publish and circulate the above. In the many personal explanations of the editor, I have noticed his efforts to have his readers know that he was a gentleman, had a personal identity and so long as his paper was approved of by intelligent Democrats, his ambition was satisfied. In all candor I would ask any intelligent Democrat if the man who would circulate such an extract as that quoted is not by nature a blackguard, a pretty specimen specimen to prate of respectability?

Wonder if B. B. "editor," when Gen. Grant said he would "fight it out on that line," would have said "you're a liar?" If so, the probabilities are that the "official paper of the United States," would not now have the services of so brilliant a writer. Also, when Gen. Butler was guarding the railroad at Annapolis, to prevent the capture of Washington by B. B's Southern friends, what a figure the high-toned, dignified, gentleman, would have cut by saying Gen. Butler, you're a thief?

While I desire to support all branches of industry among us, a paper soliciting aid while edited by such men as B. B. is a nuisance and ought not to have the benefit of a single dime of any citizen who has respect for his country, honor, religion or virtue.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO FEBRUARY 11.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—In the House a large number of bills and resolutions were introduced. Paine offered a resolution declaring that the Seat of Government ought to be removed to the valley of the Mississippi. It was rejected—ayes, 77; noes, 97.

The House next proceeded to draw for seats. This occasioned much merriment.

The Speaker presented a message from the President in reference to the trial and conviction of American citizens in England.

Stevens asked leave to offer a resolution that the evidence taken regarding the impeachment by the Judiciary Committee be referred to the Reconstruction Committee with leave to report at any time. Brooks objected. Stevens moved to suspend the rules.

After some amendments providing for the printing of 50,000 copies of the testimony and directing the General of the Army to send to the House a copy of the last letter received from the President, the objections were withdrawn and the resolution was adopted.

The House then went into Committee of the Whole to consider the Legislative and Executive Appropriation bill. After discussion, the Committee rose and the House adjourned.

In the Senate, Ramsey presented a petition of the citizens of Colorado, asking admission as a State.

Pomeroy introduced a joint resolution relative to the occasional mail service with China. Referred.

Henderson introduced a bill to set apart an Indian Territory in Montana and other territories; also authorizing the distribution of surplus condemned property among the Indians.

The Supplementary Reconstruction bill was then taken up. Harlan and Tipton spoke in favor of the bill.

Washington News.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—In a special message to-night the President nominated Charles J. Tuckerman of New York as Minister to Greece.

Justice Nelson said the Supreme Court were unanimous in their opinion regarding the Georgia case. The decision is regarded as virtually settling all similar cases before the Supreme Court arising under the reconstruction bills.

The House committee has resumed consideration of the charge against Judge Field. The editor of the paper in which the statement first appeared, refused to answer the questions of the committee, and they not having power to commit him for contempt, adjourned.

The President will nominate Gen. McClellan as Minister to England.

The President's reply to Grant's letter was sent in by that officer at noon. The contents have not been disclosed. It is said to be toned down from the first draft.

CHICAGO, Feb. 11.—Washington specials say that a delegation of railroad men from the East went before the House Committee on Postoffice Affairs to-day, urging an increase in the amount paid for carrying the mails. They represent that they cannot afford to transport the mails at the old prices.

The President's reply to Grant contains the endorsements of Secretaries Welles, Browning, McCulloch, Seward and Randall, of the allegations made by the President against Grant on the score of veracity.

It is believed that had there been a full house, the resolution in favor of the removal of the capital to the Mississippi valley would have passed.

The case of Sunset Cox has not been decided. Ben. Wade is electioneering strongly against him, and thinks he has enough Senators pledged to insure his defeat.

The Supreme Court and the Reconstruction Act.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—In the Supreme Court, Justice Nelson announces an elaborate opinion in the case of the State of Georgia against Stanton, Grant and Pope, praying that they be restrained from doing certain acts contemplated by the reconstruction laws. The Court dismissed the bill for the reason that it presents a political question and therefore does not properly fall under its jurisdiction. The Justice said this opinion was also applicable to similar petitions from the State of Missouri.

Nominations and Confirmations.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—The President has nominated Capt. Green to be a Commodore in the navy active list, in place of Cicero Price, retired Commander; John Cooper to be Captain in place of Green, promoted. The Senate has confirmed the following nominations: L. Scott Stewart, of Pennsylvania, Consul at Oaxaca; James W. Henderson, Register of the land office at Humboldt, California; Pardon Dodds, Indian Agent at Utah; Lee Webb, Superintendent of Indian Affairs in New Mexico; Geo. M. Hallatt, Receiver of Public Money in Colorado; Irwin G. Stanton, Register of land office at Central City, Colorado. The President recognized Charles Walcott Brooks as Consul for Japan, at San Francisco.

Kentucky Senator.

LOUISVILLE, Feb. 11.—Senator Guthrie has resigned on account of sickness. The Legislature will elect a successor on Tuesday, February 18th.

Fire in New York.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—A fire broke out on John street, on Saturday night, which caused a loss of over half a million of dollars. Wm. Jessup, a dealer in steel, and A. W. Paine were the heaviest [illegible]

Miscellaneous.

HALIFAX, Feb. 10.—The House is engaged in discussing the repeal resolution. Meetings continue to be held in various parts of the country.

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—A World's special dispatch from Montgomery says the radicals concede the defeat of the new constitution, by a variously estimated vote, less than half that required, by ten to twenty-three thousand.

Letters from Madrid show a misunderstanding between Minister Hale and the Secretary of Legation, Perry. It is said Hale will come home, unless Perry is recalled for examination.

The World's correspondence develops the fact that the President assured Grant that he proceeded to assume all the responsibility for the violation of the tenure of office act in the case of the restoration of Stanton.

The Board of Directors of the Union Pacific Railroad, on Friday, voted to place the machine shops, depots, etc., at Cheyenne for the road east of the mountain division. This will make that the grand terminating point at the east base of the mountain. The decision will cause the expenditure of vast sums of money.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—A fire in John street Saturday night, caused a loss of over a half million dollars. Wm. Jessups, dealer in steel, and A. W. Paine are the heaviest losers.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

LONDON, Feb. 10.—McKay has been examined for committing the assault on the Martello Tower at Duncannon. The evidence was conclusive and he was fully committed for trial. He is a very young man; barely 21. Several rioters who attempted to rescue McKay were also committed. In the melee, two policemen were dangerously wounded.

LIVERPOOL, Feb. 10.—The strike of the cabmen has ended and vehicles are running as usual.

LONDON, Feb. 10.—The Marquis of Dazeglio, the Italian Minister, has resigned. He asks to be recalled immediately.

Much excitement exists at Warwick in consequence of an anticipated attempt of the Fenians to rescue Burke, confined in Warwick Jail.

Dispatches from China announce that Minister Burlingame had departed for the United States.

An earthquake was felt at Shanghae and Ningpoo. No destruction of life or property was reported, but the shock caused great consternation.

The Imperialists report another battle with the rebels. They claim that the rebels were defeated in all these encounters. The Imperial arms are rapidly regaining the lost ground.

CORK, Feb. 10.—Last night a squad of policemen patrolling the streets, were attacked by a mob with stones and clubs. The policemen being outnumbered fell back. When they were reinforced the crowd had dispersed and none could be found.

BERLIN, Feb. 10.—A National Customs Conference will soon assemble here. It is regarded not only as important to the interests of commerce, but likely to advance the progress of German unity. The National party are assiduously laying plans to give a political character to the approaching conference.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 11.—A bill for the prevention of cruelty to animals in this State, has been drawn up in the Health office, founded on the New York law, and will be presented in the Assembly to-morrow by Mr. Scudder.

Saturday last, Peter Rosser was thrown from a butcher's cart and sustained injuries which resulted in his death yesterday.

Mary Cunningham, the waiter girl who took poison on Saturday, died this morning.

A bed of oysters, as large as those of the Chesapeake Bay, rumor says, has been recently discovered within a few hours sail of the Golden Gate. A schooner has already reached San Francisco freighted with the new found bivalves.

It is reported that Nasby says in a late letter: "Androo whines becos his Cabinet won't sine his charges agen Grant. Let him send 'em to me. I'll sine anything for Androo rather than resign."

A Union Club has been formed at Lebanon, Linn county. Much interest is manifested by the Unionists in that quarter.

What Grant Is, and Is Not.

In General Badeau's History of General Grant is the following interesting passage:

"The truth is, that Grant's extreme simplicity of behavior and directness of expression, imposed on various officers, both above and below him. They thought him a good, plain man, who had blundered into one or two successes, and who, therefore, could not be immediately removed; but they deemed it unnecessary to regard his judgment or to count upon his ability. His superiors made their plans invariably without consulting him, and his subordinates sometimes sought to carry out their own campaigns, in opposition or indifference to his orders, not doubting that, with their superior intelligence, they could conceive and execute triumphs which would excuse or even vindicate their course. It is impossible to understand the early history of the war, without taking it into account, that neither the Government nor its important commanders gave Grant credit for intellectual ability or military genius.

"His officer qualities were also rated low. Because he was patient, some thought it impossible to provoke him; and because of his calmness, it was supposed that he was stolid. In battle, or in campaigning, he did not seem to care or consider so much what the enemy was doing as what he himself meant to do; and this trait, to enthusiastic or even brilliant soldiers, appeared inexplicable. A great commander, it was imagined, should be nervous, excitable, inspiring his men and captivating his officers; calling private soldiers by their names, making eloquent addresses in the field, and waving his drawn sword in battle. Great commanders had done all these things, and won; and many men, who could do all these things, fancied themselves great commanders. Others imagined wisdom to consist in science alone; they sought success in learned and elaborate plans, requiring months to develop, when the enemy was immediately before them; they manœuvred when it was the time to fight; they entrenched when they should have attacked, and studied their books when the field should have been their only problem.

Grant is like none of these. If he possessed acquirements, he appeared unconscious of them; he made no allusion to the schools, and never hesitated to transgress their rules, when the occasion seemed to him to demand it. So he neither won men's hearts by blandishments, nor affected their imaginations by brilliancy of behavior; nor did he seem profound to those who are impressed only by a display of learning. All these things should be appreciated by those who seek to understand his character or career."

During the late bathing season a pompous individual walked up to the office of a sea-side hotel, and, with a considerable flourish, signed the book, and in a loud voice exclaimed, "I'm Lieutenant Governor of——." "That doesn't make any difference," says the landlord, "you'll be treated just as well as the others!"

Congress will soon be called upon to consider Mr. Ruggles' report on the international coin question. The twenty-five franc gold coin, recently struck by the government of France, bears upon one side the inscription of five dollars, and this coin is to be offered to England and the United States as a type of the monetary union now advocated.

It is pretty certain that Maine will present at the Chicago Convention for nomination to the Vice Presidency, the name of Mr. Hamlin; New York that of Mr. Fenton; Pennsylvania that of Mr. Grow; Ohio that of Mr. Wade.

Harper's Weekly says, keenly, that the Democratic party in 1864 represented the spirit of hatred of human rights, under the plea of State rights, and they maintain now the State right to destroy the equal rights of citizens.

CHAS. DICKENS' READINGS are creating quite a sensation in the Atlantic States, the proceeds of which are so enormously large that that popular author refused the sum of Twenty-five Thousand Dollars to come to San Francisco—and yet the people of Oregon continue to buy their clothing and dry-goods of the best and cheapest house in the State, which, of course, is at KOHN & FISHEL'S

What a Note Company says:

"We recommend the CASH plan as the best mode of Insurance. None will deny this after a few years' experience of the different plans."—The Charter Oak Life Insurance Co. (a Note Company.)

EXPERIENCE has taught business men that CREDITS must be paid for!

IN CASH COMPANIES—The first payment is the largest; every successive year reduces the premium or increases the policy, at the option of the insured. Past records of the Mutual prove that in 15 years their payments cease, but DIVIDENDS continue for life.

IN NOTE COMPANIES—The first payment is the smallest—interest on Notes swallow Dividends and increase the future payments.

OBSERVE—Notes must be paid for by higher rates and increased insurance!!

DIVIDENDS.—The Mutual declares Dividends the first and every successive year from the date of a policy holders' insurance. N. B.—The public should ascertain from other Insurance Companies if Dividends are declared annually from the start—or annually 4 YEARS AFTER Insurance.

RATES in The Mutual are Lower than in any other Company doing business on the Pacific Coast—and are considerably lower than in any Note Company.

EVERY ADVANTAGE is offered by The Mutual (excepting notes)—that other Insurance Companies can offer.

THE MUTUAL

IS THE OLDEST AND LARGEST LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.

LAND COMMUNICATION WITH VANCOUVER.—Mr. A. A. Schasbou of Vancouver, called on us last evening and submitted a plan which is on foot to connect this city and Vancouver by means of a practicable wagon road, and a steam ferry across the Columbia. The matter has been canvassed at Vancouver and the names of ten men have been signed to an agreement to establish and maintain a steam ferry, provided Multnomah county will construct one mile of plank road, to be above high water mark, between Switzler's landing on the Columbia and Love's place on the Slough, on the road to East Portland. This portion of the road is now impracticable during high water or during the prevalence of wet weather. Mr. Schasbou thinks the plank road may be constructed for $10,000 or perhaps for much less. The following is a copy of a petition to be circulated in this county:

To the Chairman and Members of the County Commissioners of Multnomah County, State of Oregon, Portland. [illegible] The undersigned, tax payers of Multnomah county, respectfully petition your honorable [illegible] to erect a substantial plank road from the bank of the Columbia river, at Switzler's, to Love's place, on the East Portland county road, a distance of about one mile, and have the remainder of the road graded, which, when [illegible] with the State of Oregon by steam ferry [illegible] to be put on by the [illegible] holders of Vancouver, W. T., with the Territory of Washington, and will [illegible] the Northern Pacific Railroad, which [illegible] this road in the month of November [illegible] to be [illegible] to pass [illegible] also to be [illegible] as to insure safe traveling at [illegible] of the highest water.

Your petitioners are aware of the considerable sum said plank road will cost the county, but they are nevertheless satisfied that the benefit to be gained will fully counterbalance any such expense. The travel now is by steamboat, making a circuit of eighteen miles, while the [illegible] in less than one mile.

A long continued interruption to navigation has taught the necessity of such a means of communication, and it is to be hoped that it will not be long [illegible]. Portland has the most miserable means of getting out in [illegible] river navigation be [illegible], of any city of its importance on the Pacific coast. It is time that some measures were taken for land communication with the [illegible] country, as though the city and country were [illegible] more than [illegible].

SAN FRANCISCO [illegible] REPORTS.—[illegible] we have had [illegible] of the frivolous [illegible] matter of the [illegible] from San Francisco. Items upon items, in the monthly [illegible], amounting to several columns, are sent, which [illegible] no earthly interest to Oregon [illegible]. For instance, [illegible] we published the following paragraphs:

[illegible] of William Gallick; order adjudging him a [illegible] and for [illegible] and notice for meeting [illegible] on the 4th day of April, 1868.

[illegible].—Within the last few days a twenty-five or thirty [illegible] men have [illegible] themselves [illegible] Hall, where they propose to have regular dancing parties. It is [illegible] that these parties will be [illegible], only members of the club and invited guests to be admitted. The first of the series occurred last evening when the company, about thirty couples, had a very pleasant time.

[illegible] TO ASSIST AN OFFICER.—Isaac W[illegible] is under bonds to [illegible] the Recorder to [illegible] charge of refusing to [illegible] an officer to make an arrest when called upon. There are many persons who are ignorant of the liability they incur by failing to [illegible] in such cases. The law provides a penalty for such failure or refusal where an officer makes a proper [illegible].

THE THAW.—The thaw [illegible] after two days trial to have started in, in good faith, and of course, all the weather signs are [illegible]. We haven't said a word about the thaw, before, for fear the clerk of the weather would get his back up and choke the whole thing off. The river is likely to be open in the course of three or four days, even without rain.

GOING EAST.—Rev. Dr. [illegible], Editor of the Advocate, informs us that he will start East, in the course of about three weeks, to attend the General Conference of the M. E. Church, to be held at Chicago, beginning on the 1st day of May. He will be absent till some time perhaps in June or July. Meantime, the Advocate will be under the charge of competent hands.

[illegible] AT THE FAIR.—We are informed that at the request of the managers of the Catholic Fair, the Philharmonic Society has consented to sing on Friday evening, at Oro Fino Hall. Their appearance on that occasion will doubtless add very materially both to the interest of the Fair and to the substantial aid [illegible] for the orphans.

IMPROVEMENTS AT THE WHITE HOUSE.—Mr. John Dooley is the person who has the contract to clear thirty acres of ground surrounding the White House and is to get $2,400 for the job. The stumps taken out are to be used along the river front to prevent the caving of the bank, by the action of the current.

NAVIGATION OF THE UPPER RIVER.—The Record of yesterday says: "The Enterprise has been up the river, working on obstructions. The high water made a change of [illegible] in some places, and materially affects the ease of navigation. Trade is generally dull."

THE ICE AT VANCOUVER.—Mr. [illegible] who [illegible] the river on the ice, at Vancouver, yesterday morning says, the [illegible] is becoming dangerous on account of the [illegible] of the ice. He is confident that it will break up in three or four days at the farthest.

FOR THE DALLES.—Mr. Cann and Mr. Blakeney leave early this morning, with the express and mails for the Dalles and Idaho. It is hoped this will be the last overland trip of the kind which it will be necessary to make.

PRODUCE.—The steamer Alert, from Oregon City, yesterday, brought down 2,619 qr sks flour, 193 sks feed, 18 hlf bbls dried apples, 41 hlf bbls lard, 2 cases mdse, 1 coop chickens and 2 pigs.

SOIREE.—Prof. Cardinell will give another of his popular soirees on Thursday evening, at his Dancing Academy.

WHEN WE HAVE A RAILROAD.—The San Francisco Call has a letter from Washington on the subject of the Pacific Railroad, in which the writer says:

"You may all stand from under. The people are coming out to see you when the road is finished, and when it is finished you will want two more lines—the Northern and Southern—and you will have them and they will be full of business, and in less than twenty years San Francisco will probably contain a population of five hundred thousand. People here are more excited and interested over your wheat than they were over your gold. They were not a mining people and feared to experiment. They thought the gold would soon be dug out. But they can understand wheat. I was through the West, among my old acquaintances, and I could feel the population moving toward the Pacific States. Now, as the good women say, Mark my words. Population of the right sort, carrying with it sufficient to set itself to work, not seeking situations, will set in upon you within three years in such numbers as never before flooded any portion of the United States."

LAID UP.—The steamer Okanagan was yesterday laid up to await the breaking up of the ice in the Columbia.

MESSAGE.—There is a message at the Telegraph Office for James Wightman.

DR. C. W. COOL,
DENTIST.

THOSE WHO DESIRE FIRST CLASS DENTAL SERVICES might do well to give him a call. He is making a NEW AND IMPROVED VULCANITE PLATE. The nature of his improvement consists in lining the entire concave surface with fine gold, it makes the plate twice as strong and one-third times thinner than the common vulcanite plate. It also prevents the acids of the mouth from roughing the plate, and from turning it black, which is a common occurrence. One half of the common vulcanite plates turn black after being in use a short time, particularly where tobacco is used for smoking. His new style of plate admits of a very fine finish on the concave or palate surface. His office is the only place where such work can be had. The improvement is his own invention, for which he has received, December 3d 1867, a patent from the United States Patent Office. He has been making this style of work for the last two and a half years, and has specimens of the work which can be seen at his office. This work has given satisfaction in every case.

OFFICE—temporarily at the private parlor of the New Columbian Hotel. dec31-3ptf

MARTIN LUTHER once thought he saw the devil in his chamber, and threw an inkstand at his head. Had they had in those days AYER'S PILLS to exorcise all the devils that come from a disordered stomach, his laughable fright would not have become a matter of history.

DR. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS should be in the possession of everybody in the mining region. As a preventive of various dangerous diseases to which the gold seeker is liable, it has no superior. While it is quite palatable even as a beverage, it is speedy and powerful in its effects upon the system. In all cases of diarrhea, dysentery and the prevailing errors consequent upon exposure, the Bitters will be found invaluable as a corrective. No man should enter upon the exposed camp life of a miner without being provided with Hostetter's preventive of stomach disease, nor should any of those who are now engaged in the occupation, fail to have recourse to the Bitters.—Sold by all druggists and dealers everywhere.

PERRY DAVIS' VEGETABLE PAIN KILLER.

THE UNIVERSAL REMEDY FOR INTERNAL AND EXTERNAL COMPLAINTS.

At this period there are but few of the human race unacquainted with the merits of the Pain Killer; but while some extol it as a liniment, they know but little of its power in easing pain when taken internally, while others use it internally with great success, but are equally ignorant of its healing virtues when applied externally. We therefore wish to say to all that it is equally successful whether used internally or externally, and it stands alone unrivalled by all the great catalogue of Family Medicines, and its sale is universal and immense. The demand for it from India and other foreign countries is equal to the demand at home, and it has become known in these far off places by its merits.

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.

The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

A Layman's Confession of Faith.

As other men have creeds, so I have mine;
I keep the holy faith in God, in man,
And in the angels ministrant between.
I hold to one true church of all true souls,
Whose churchly seal is neither bread nor wine,
Nor laying on of hands, nor holy oil,
But only the anointing of God's grace.

I hate all kings, and caste, and rank of birth,
For all the sons of men are sons of God;
Nor limps a beggar but is nobly born,
Nor wears a slave a yoke, nor czar a crown,
That makes him less or more than just a man.

I love my country, and her righteous cause
So I dare not keep silent in her sin,
And after Freedom, may her bells ring Peace!

I love one woman with a holy fire,
Whom I revere as priestess of my house,
I stand with wondering awe before my babes,
Till they rebuke me to a nobler life;
I keep a faithful friendship with my friend,
Whom loyally I serve before myself;
I lock my lips too close to speak a lie,
I wash my hands too clean to touch a bribe;
I owe no man a debt I cannot pay,
Save only of the love men ought to owe.

Withal, each day, before the blessed heaven,
I open wide the chambers of my soul,
And pray the Holy Ghost to enter in.

Thus reads the fair confession of my faith;
So [illegible] with contradiction by my life
That now may God forgive the written lie!
Yet still by help of Him who helpeth men,
I face two worlds and fear not life nor death.
O Father! lead me by Thy hand!

Two Months in New York.

BY JOHN OXENFORD, ESQ.

[From the London Leader.]

If at a good New York restaurant you wish to open your dinner, after disposing of the prelude of oysters, with a soup of stout consistency and savory quality, strongly contrasted with the insipid green turtle, let that soup be ochra. The name is derived from a vegetable which forms one of the chief ingredients, and which, in its cooked form, looks like thin slices of celery cut at right angles to the axis of the stalk; but the whole compound is highly to be recommended, and, though its name is of vegetable origin, it is decidedly animal in its nature.

Yes; summing up all, I will say first, that [illegible] oysters, then ochra soup, then a soft-shell crab, (best of all) then some sort of meat, then a dish of Indian corn, and then (say) peaches and cream, which is an ever popular desert, and there is a tolerable bill of fare; but don't expect too much from the butcher's contribution. The American meat, like the American people, lacks fatness, and is somewhat dry in the mouth. The Indian corn stands high among the dainties of the New World, and appears in divers [illegible]; but the real epicure orders it to be brought up in its green state, plain-boiled, butters it liberally, peppers it profusely, and eats off the cob, which he holds in his fingers. Whether [illegible], which we could have at will if we wanted it, could ever become equally delectable to the English I doubt, inasmuch as a taste for sweet vegetables is with us comparatively rare, and [illegible] of parsnips are an exception to the general rule. But the American has generally a sweet tooth. He affects large wedges of various tarts, which he calls "pies," and which are filled with peaches, huckleberries, and [illegible], the latter fruit being not only plentiful to the extent contemplated by Falstaff, but [illegible] the largest mulberries. Sweet potatoes, yellow in their hue, but dry to the tongue, are [illegible] greatly to his taste; but they would be [illegible] here.

[illegible] are various, and the kinds unknown to London are numerous enough. The egg-plant and the [illegible], are anywhere to be had, and "[illegible]," a mixture of Indian corn and [illegible] together, is one of the common[illegible]. Potatoes, ordinary as well as sweet, are largely consumed, and without slices of [illegible] will not dare his breakfast. [illegible] Great pleasure, too, is taken in the tomato, which, while used for sauces as in England, is most popular when cut up in raw slices. A dish of these is an extremely pretty object, and with its bright scarlet color would enter well into a picture of fruit, to which melons might be added in any required quantity. Altogether, the [illegible] vegetable cuisine of New York is [illegible].

Among the substantial national dishes consumed by the humble feeders is "pork and beans," [illegible] coarse but by no means despicable [illegible]. In the principle of its composition it [illegible] related to the old English "Toad in the Hole," while its materials are certainly different, for it consists of a number of small pieces of salt pork, buried in a mass of broad beans, the whole being baked together after the fashion of a rice pudding, to be eaten cold. "Pickled pigs' feet" are also largely in request, and when on [illegible] by the appearance of an inviting [illegible]. These are substantial articles, including the cheek as well as the feet, and therefore much larger than the English "pettitoe," but they derive their distinctive relish from a [illegible] of vinegar. With us pickle, as applied to meat, refers to salt only; in America the word, in all cases, is associated with acidity. Pickled [illegible], pertaining to pigs or sheep, are to be found at the bars of the theatrical restaurants, which, by the way, are much more [illegible] than the saloons of the English playhouses. Between the acts of the piece the American [illegible] as naturally to the bar as the [illegible] to his café. Boiled salted beef is usually [illegible] by the old-fashioned name—"corned beef."

Drinking is dear—very dear; but high as the [illegible] is, nothing can repress a taste for "[illegible] up," in every class save that which [illegible] teetotalism. And the phrase almost [illegible] the spirits, either taken simply with water or forming a chief ingredient of those compounds which are among the institutions of the New World. Who shall enumerate all the [illegible] effected in the mixture of whisky, [illegible], bitters and ever-present ice, especially to the spirituous are to be superadded the [illegible] grounds! Cocktails of whisky, brandy [illegible], mint-juleps, milk-punch, [illegible], sherry-cobblers, claret-punch all have [illegible], and are all more or less alike in [illegible] with the exception of the milk-punch and [illegible], which latter is a sort of iced flip. [illegible] is, I think, in favor of cocktails as [illegible] thing to take at the bar as soon as [illegible] after breakfast.

The ordinary whisky cocktail is composed of the [illegible] few lumps of ice, an infusion of [illegible] a particle of lemon, the whole drink not [illegible] the ample contents of a wine glass. [illegible] is the solution of the enigma that the Americans drink so often and yet are so rarely found in a state of disgusting inebriety. They are not [illegible] topers, but frequent sippers.

The barkeepers of New York look wistfully at the [illegible] tavern practice of vending liquors by the [illegible] and complain that the sale by [illegible] interferes sadly with their profits; for as [illegible] the so-called "drink" consists merely of [illegible] and water, the customer has a right to help himself, and the strength of his tipple has nothing to do with the scale of his liabilities. The [illegible] of the compound "drink" is, of course, in the hands of the vendor.

Much as the Americans are misrepresented in the Old Country, and that they have been grossly [illegible] there is no doubt the addiction to [illegible], vice if you will, which sounds [illegible] horrible to European ears, is general, beyond the power of exaggeration. They chew tobacco almost universally, and they expectorate to an extent which renders the spittoon a much more common article of household furniture than in Europe. I have seen the office of a respectable lawyer, in which every clerk had one of these [illegible] of earthenware placed against his stool, and ever and anon took his quid of the fragrant weed from his box with a business like air that accompanied the dip of his pen into the ink. I have seen innumerable packages of tobacco [illegible] up on the shelves of a suburban bear-shop, and have naturally surmised that at least a portion of this was intended for the repletion of pipes. But soon I heard the proprietor explain that he kept cigars only for smoking, and that all his store of the unmanufactured weed was intended for mastication only.

Nevertheless, in spite of the practice of the quid among all classes, I feel convinced that a time will arrive when an opulent American will no more think of chewing tobacco than a modern English country gentleman does of bull baiting. There is evidently a very strong notion among the most inveterate chewers that the practice does not elevate them in the eyes of foreigners, and whereas the Americans are, in most cases, a bold and frank people, who look sharply at your face when they converse, there is an evident timidity on the subject of tobacco when they are conversing with Europeans. The choice morsel is, if possible, thrust furtively into the mouth, while the eye of the European is turned to an opposite direction, and its presence is only to be detected by an undulating movement of the cheek. Observing this, I once asked a most affable gentleman with whom I was conversing, whether he chewed, and my question was answered with a hurried answer in the affirmative, followed by an emphatically expressed hope that it did not annoy me. Of course it did not, as I cheerfully asserted, but I felt that I had better not have expressed my desire for information.

On the other hand, if you really want to have a good open idolator of the quid, address yourself not to a native American, but to an Englishman who, not having thriven greatly at home, has made himself comfortable in the New World, and ardently embraced, all its institutions, social and political. Ask such a man if he smokes, and he will heartily reply: "Of course I do—am I not an American citizen?"

Don't believe all you hear about the extreme [illegible] of our cousins, and their anxiety to extol their own country at the expense of every other. It may have been true once, and it may be true with respect to some parts of the Union, but it is not true with respect to New York now. I went into all sorts of company, and was everywhere treated with respect, but I never was asked the question, "How do you like our country?" with which every foreigner expects to be assailed. Nay, I am certain that if I had avowed that I did not like it at all, and given a decent reason for my dislike, the question would have been fairly debated on both sides without loss of temper. Here's a case in point. The postal system between America and Europe is efficient enough, and if you send a letter from New York to London, you may calculate, weather permitting, the date of its arrival. Otherwise is it with a letter destined to reach some place within the precincts of the City itself. Post an epistle directed to Wall-street, Threadneedle street and Lombard street of New York, in a box not above half a mile distant, and let it be addressed to the most eminent merchant, banker, or broker, and the chance is that he will not receive it till the following day. Hence the almost universal practice of employing special messengers, answering to our old light porters, where any important business requiring speed is concerned.

Suffering the inconvenience of this system, or rather no system, two or three times, I execrated the internal postal arrangements of New York in no measured terms, and loudly extolled the frequent "deliveries" of London. Now a thorough American, of the type represented by the normal European traveler, would, under these circumstances, have been highly enraged, and have fiercely demonstrated that as the happiness of a nation depends on the scantiness of its history, so is the prosperity and grandeur of a city indicated by the infrequency of its postal deliveries. But no such figure arose. The merchants and bankers perfectly sympathized with my execration, and envied the Londoner with his complete postal system.

Another case: On one occasion I left my purse in my bedroom, and the door of the room unlocked. The landlady of the hotel, a grand, intelligent lady, (of whose thoroughly American origin there could be no doubt,) came into the breakfast room with the purse in her hand, imploring me never to leave anything about, and, above all, invariably to lock the door; "for," she added, "recollect you are not in England, but in New York." Now this certainly did not look like an undue elevation of the New World at the expense of the Old.

By the way, having strayed into the hotel, let me give a word to the hotel boy, a very useful institution unknown to the English. At very large hotels there are about seven or eight boys, whose ages range from ten to fourteen, and who are ready to execute in a twinkling, every conceivable order. You could not well ring your bell in London and ask the waiter to run out and bring you a newspaper or some fruit from a stall, or a bunch of dog's meat, or to ascertain the exact hour by the nearest church clock; but all this will be cheerfully done by the hotel boy, who will feel rather glad than otherwise for the unremunerative job. These boys are under a somewhat severe discipline, and for the slightest fault are dismissed at the shortest possible notice; but this does not at all blunt their native spirit, and they display in their faces, and in their short answers, a degree of precocity which looks almost terrible to European eyes. "Why do you boys all have your hair cropped so short?" This was a question put by me to an urchin who looked about twelve years old. "To make us look like returned convicts," was the ready reply.

FROM T. M. GATCH, PRINCIPAL OF THE PORTLAND ACADEMY AND FEMALE SEMINARY:

"Having lately had an opportunity of becoming somewhat acquainted with the workings of this Institution, I unhesitatingly recommend it to all who wish to secure a practical business education in the shortest time and with the least expense. The idea of going from Oregon to California to attend a Commercial School is simply absurd.

"It is my opinion that pupils instructed by Messrs. LAUDEN and DeFRANCE receive greater attention than those of any other Commercial College on the coast, and this I say without wishing to detract from the usefulness of schools I have visited in San Francisco."

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are shutting out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life destroying maladies, see that they are cured for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, feted breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

TO THE LADIES.

The various complicated and distressing diseases incident to females, treated with eminent success. Such as Suppressions, Irregularities, Whites, Falling of the Womb, Tumors, all Urinary Diseases, Nervous Debility, Painful or Difficult Menstruation, Barrenness, etc., will be speedily cured, without poisonous drugs, injurious or unpalatable medicines of any kind. Have no delicacy in calling, no difference what your troubles may be. The afflicted are cordially invited to call and satisfy themselves.

Persons calling at Dr. Gibbon's office or sending for packages of medicines, may rely upon his assurances of confidential secrecy with implicit faith, and expect no more than to be charged with a fair and mutually satisfactory remuneration for services rendered, considering the circumstances and difficulties of cases, rather than the too prevalent and selfish practice of extortion among quacks and pretenders.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 616 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 252.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 252 ON THE LETTER

HIRAM SMITH'S

Ophthalmic Panacea!

IN BRINGING THE ABOVE-NAMED NEW REMEDY to the notice of the Public, the Proprietor begs to state a few facts in relation to it, as follows:

It originated in Prussia, where the science of Medicine is so thoroughly taught and practised, but owing to the poverty of its discoverer its wonderful properties were not known beyond the limited circle of his acquaintance, in which, however, it proved itself absolutely infallible in eradicating disease from the eyes.

He immigrated to this country, bringing his discovery with him, but seems to have been indifferent to the propriety of giving it general and wide-spread circulation, and, as previously in his native country, seemed only desirous of using it among his friends and neighbors.

The present proprietor was one of those neighbors, and for many years was a witness to its wonderful efficacy, and, after ineffectual efforts to persuade the inventor to more widely disseminate the knowledge of its virtues, finally became himself the possessor of the secret of its preparation.

And now, while he does not deny that he hopes and expects to make money by its sale, he must yet lay claim to a desire to benefit his fellows by presenting to them a remedy which does and will cure where medical science and all experience have failed.

He wishes it to be understood that it will cure all diseases of the eye, whether of recent or long standing; but its greatest power is exhibited when it is applied to old Chronic Cases of long standing, which have resisted every other attempt to cure them, and which have been given up as hopeless and past being cured or relieved.

He asks those afflicted in this way to give it a trial, and so confident is he of its success that he instructs all his agents TO REFUND THE MONEY IF IT FAILS TO CURE.

It has, within the past year, cured cases of GRANULATED LIDS, INFLAMMATION, &c., of FIVE, SIX, NINE, FIFTEEN and SEVENTEEN YEARS STANDING, evidence of which fact is furnished in the testimony of the following persons, living at and in the neighborhood of Harrisburg, Linn county.

ALEXANDER L. WALKER was cured of inflamed eyes, of nine years standing. Had been treated by eminent physicians during all that time without effect.

Mrs. MONTGOMERY, of Harrisburg, had inflamed eyes for over two years. For one year they were so bad that she could not work. Was finally completely cured by the Ophthalmic Panacea.

E. B. MOORE, of the firm of Moore, Garst & Baber, of Harrisburg, had granulated lids for six years.

NATHANIEL BILL, of Clackamas county, had inflamed eyes—a bad case—for over fifteen years.

ROBERT RAMPEY and W. D. PORTER, of Harrisburg, JOHN M. HOLLOWAY, of Linn County, G. R. WARD, of Lane County, were all afflicted, more or less severely, with diseased eyes, and were cured by the Ophthalmic Panacea.

All the above named persons have given lengthy testimonials to the facts as above stated, which may be seen at the proprietor's office in Harrisburg.

DR. J. C. YOUNG,

Medical and Surgical INSTITUTE.

-  CONSULTATION, IN ALL CASES, FREE.
-  CURES GUARANTEED, OR NO PAY REQUIRED.
-  IN ALL CASES WHERE CONFIDENCE IS REQUIRED THE UTMOST SECRESY MAINTAINED.

The above rules, established by Dr. J. C. Young in 1850, and which have done so much to secure the reputation of this Institute, are still adhered to, affording those in need of medical aid, the certainty of cure and the utmost confidence.

There is nothing of so great importance to the sick as to know where to find a physician whose skill and humanity give assurance of proper and delicate treatment. The Doctor would respectfully call the attention of those of both sexes who are suffering or in trouble to the invariable success that has marked the career of the Institute in the seventeen years of its existence.

It is unnecessary in this connection to enumerate all the complaints treated at the Institute, but the Doctor feels it his duty to call especial attention to that terrible scourge,

SEMINAL WEAKNESS,

That is sapping with its insidiousness the very life of its victims; in the treatment and cure of which the Institute has earned so enviable a reputation.

READ! READ!

I am aware that by dwelling upon so uninviting a subject as the decay of manly vigor through the loss of the vital principle of life, the ignorant may asperse my motive; but the desire to point out to those who suffer, languish and decay, the true cause of their affliction, is too great an incentive to be forced into abeyance. How extended the terrible disease of Seminal Weakness is, no one but the practical specialist who devotes his time to its treatment can tell; but its presence can be detected by the most inexperienced by noting the following symptoms: Weakness of the back and limbs; languishing feelings, loss of muscular power; nervousness, irritability; cold feet or hands, accompanied by hot head; symptoms of consumption; short breath; flushings of the face; aversion to society; confusion of the mind; loss of memory; nightly emissions; colorless, slight discharges upon the least excitement; trembling; palpitation of the heart; irregular appetite; variable temper, etc.

YOUNG MAN, if you experience any of the kind symptoms enumerated above, pause to consider. The present is the golden moment in which you may secure health and happiness. You may feel strong now, but if you have ever practiced the vice of self-abuse even in the slightest degree, you have the seeds of weakness in your system, and their undermining influence will, sooner or later, dash the fair edifice of your strength to the ground, leaving you a helpless, abject being. It is not a disease that declares itself at once. Therein lies its greatest danger; for while the patient is being treated for some affection of the Heart, Lungs, Brain, or Digestive functions, he sinks into a general debility that soon adds him to the list of the victims of the terrible disorder, Seminal Weakness.

See in the bent form and languishing steps, the poor victim of the fascinating vice! Mark the course of the destructive complaint in the hollow cheek and dull eye!

Drowsiness is one of the premonitory symptoms. At first it is easily shaken off, but it grows eventually into a great disinclination to pursue his regular business. The mind becomes apprehensive, and restless nights succeed days of depression.

It is the nature of the complaint to assume sudden changes that leave the poor victim but little hope of recovery. In a single instant it may wither your fond hopes and blast your honest aspirations.

Marriage is sought by a natural impulse as a hope of relief. This is an error of the first magnitude, for the system, unprepared for the exigencies of the occasion, suddenly fails, and he finds himself in a deplorable condition, from which there is but the slightest hope of recovery. Or if the marriage should result in offspring, they are puny, distorted, decrepid, and degenerate. This is applicable to both sexes, whether married or single, and to all times of life.

Do not delay if you feel any of the symptoms of the terrible complaint, or if your acts have been such as to lead to them, but by instant application secure to yourself the only hope of health and happiness. The Doctor uses no mercury or other deleterious drugs—cures, when taken in time, always guaranteed, and full and proper vigor restored.

The afflicted are assured of every confidence.

PERSONS AFFLICTED WITH VENEREAL.

During the seventeen years since the establishment of the Institute, the number of cases of Venereal that have been treated, show a record unsurpassed by any hospital in the world, and the success that has invariably marked the course of treatment,

Without Mercury or other Deleterious Drugs,

Shows conclusively the use of them to be not only uncalled for, but actually dangerous, for it is a thoroughly established medical principle that those poisonous drugs, by entering the blood, ruin the constitution and destroy life.

The Doctor effects a cure in recent cases, in a few days, and finds no difficulty in curing those of long duration, without submitting the patient to such treatment as will draw upon him the slightest suspicion, or oblige him to neglect his business, whether in-doors or without. The diet need not be changed. Cures always guaranteed, or no pay required.

IMPORTANT TO FEMALES.

When a female is in trouble or afflicted with disease, and requires medical or surgical assistance, the inquiry should be, "Where is there a physician competent to administer relief, and whose respectable standing in society will recommend him to the confidence of the community?" The Doctor, understanding how imperatively necessary these requirements are, feels called upon to interpose, and by calling the attention of the afflicted to the fact that he has been a Professor of Obstetrics and Female Diseases for twenty years, and is fully qualified to administer in all cases, both medically and surgically, not in a superficial manner, but in as thorough a manner as years of study and practice both in hospitals and private families—can make, to save them from the hands of the unqualified, unscrupulous or designing. Therefore, families can rely upon him as upon a father. All in affliction can find in him one who can feel and sympathize with and befriend them in trouble—one in whose secrecy the utmost confidence can be placed—consultation by letter or otherwise, free. Cures guaranteed in all weakness and trouble incidental to the sex. Private apartments are provided, when desired, where can be had all the advantages of unremitted attention of the Doctor, and the most skillful and faithful nurses.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.—Persons, either male or female, residing in the interior, are often deterred from consulting the Doctor because they cannot spare the time, nor incur the expense of a visit to the city. To such he would say that a plain statement of the symptoms and information bearing upon the complaint, will enable him to prescribe for them so that they can be cured at home. None need have any false delicacy about writing, no matter what the nature of their complaint, as the communication will be seen by no one except the Doctor, and will be treated with the utmost confidence, and either be returned or destroyed.

☞ Consultation Free.

Ayer's SARSAPARILLA,

THE WORLD'S GREAT REMEDY FOR

Scrofula and Scrofulous Disease.

From Emery Edes, a well-known merchant of Oxford, Maine.

"I have sold large quantities of your SARSAPARILLA, but never yet one bottle which failed of the desired effect and full satisfaction to those who took it. As fast as our people try it, they agree there has been no medicine like it before in our community."

Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches, Pustules, Ulcers, Sores, and all Diseases of the Skin.

From Rev. Robt. Stratton, Bristol, England.

"I only do my duty to you and the public, when I add my testimony to that you publish of the medicinal virtues of your SARSAPARILLA. My daughter, aged ten, had an afflicting humor in her ears, eyes, and hair for years, which we were unable to cure until we tried your SARSAPARILLA. She has been well for some months."

From Mrs. Jane E. Rice, a well-known and esteemed lady of Dennisville, Cape May Co., N. J.

"My daughter has suffered for a year past with a scrofulous eruption, which was very troublesome. Nothing afforded any relief until we tried your SARSAPARILLA, which soon completely cured her."

From Charles P. Gage, Esq., of the [illegible] Gage, Murray & Co., manufacturers of [illegible] papers in Nashua, N. H.

"I had for several years a very [illegible] humor in my face, which grew [illegible] until it disfigured my features and [illegible] erable affliction. I tried almost every [illegible] could of both advice and medicine, but [illegible] relief whatever, until I took your SARSAPARILLA. It immediately [illegible] my face [illegible], as you told me it might for a time; but in a few [illegible] skin began to form under the [illegible], and continued until my face is as smooth as any body's, and I am without any symptoms of the [illegible] I know of. I enjoy perfect health, and [illegible] doubt owe it to your SARSAPARILLA."

Erysipelas—General Debility—Purify the Blood.

From Dr. [illegible], New York.

"DR. AYER. I [illegible] to [illegible] and Scrofulous Sores by the [illegible] use of your SARSAPARILLA, and I have just now cured an [illegible] of Malignant Erysipelas with it. No alterative we possess equals the SARSAPARILLA you have supplied to the profession as well as to the people."

From J. E. Johnston, Esq., Wak[illegible], Ohio.

"For twelve years, I had the yellow [illegible] on my right arm, during which time I tried all the celebrated physicians I could reach, and took hundreds of dollars worth of medicines. The [illegible] were so bad that the cords became visible, and the doctors decided that my arm must be [illegible]. I began taking your SARSAPARILLA. Took two bottles, and some of your PILLS. Together they have cured me. I am now as well and sound as any body. B[illegible] in a public place, my case is known to every body in this community, and excites the [illegible] of all."

From Hon. Henry Monro, M. P. P., of Newcastle, C. W., a leading member of the [illegible] Parliament.

"I have used your SARSAPARILLA in my [illegible] for general debility, and for purifying the [illegible] with very beneficial results, and feel [illegible] commending it to the afflicted."

St. Anthony's Fire, Rose, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Sore Eyes.

From Harvey Sickler, Esq., the able editor of the Tunkhannock Democrat, Pennsylvania.

"Our only child, about three years of age, was attacked by pimples on his forehead. They rapidly spread until they formed a loathsome and virulent sore, which covered his face, and actually blinded his eyes for some days. A skillful physician applied nitrate of silver and other remedies, without any apparent effect. For fifteen days we guarded his hands, lest with them he should tear open the festering and corrupt wound which covered his whole face. Having tried every thing else we had any hope from, we began giving your SARSAPARILLA, and applying the iodide of potash lotion, as you direct. The sore began to heal when we had given the first bottle, and was well when we had finished the [illegible]. The [illegible] out, [illegible], and he is now as [illegible] as any other. The whole neighborhood predicted that the child must die."

Syphilis and Mercurial Disease.

From Dr. Hiram Sloat, of St. Louis, Missouri.

"I find your SARSAPARILLA a more effectual remedy for the [illegible] symptoms of [illegible] and for syphilitic disease than any other we possess. The profession are indebted to you for some of the best medicines we have."

From A. J. French, M. D., an eminent physician of Lawrence, Mass., who is a prominent member of the Legislature of Massachusetts.

"DR. AYER. My dear Sir: I [illegible] SARSAPARILLA an [illegible] and [illegible] for both of the [illegible] [illegible] that [illegible] too [illegible] to [illegible]. I do not [illegible] to employ with [illegible] of [illegible] ful alterative [illegible]."

Mr. Chas. S. Van Liew, of New Brunswick, N. J., had dreadful ulcers on his legs, caused by the abuse of mercury, or mercurial disease, which grew more and more aggravated for years, in spite of every remedy or treatment that could be applied, until the persevering use of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA relieved him. Few cases can be found more inveterate and distressing than this, and it took several dozen bottles to cure him.

Leucorrhœa, Whites, Female Weakness, are generally produced by internal Scrofulous Ulceration, and are very often cured by the alterative effect of this SARSAPARILLA. Some cases require, however, in aid of the SARSAPARILLA, the skillful application of local remedies.

From the well-known and widely-celebrated Dr. Jacob Morrill, of Cincinnati.

"I have found your SARSAPARILLA an excellent alterative in diseases of females. Many cases of irregularity, Leucorrhœa, Internal Ulceration, and local debility, arising from the scrofulous diathesis, have yielded to it, and there are few that do not, when its effect is properly aided by local treatment."

A lady, unwilling to allow the publication of her name, writes:

"My daughter and myself have been cured of a very debilitating Leucorrhœa of long standing, by two bottles of your SARSAPARILLA."

Rheumatism, Gout, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Heart Disease, Neuralgia,

when caused by Scrofula in the system, are rapidly cured by this EXT. SARSAPARILLA.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS

possess so many advantages over the other purgatives in the market, and their superior virtues are so universally known, that we need not do more than to assure the public their quality is maintained equal to the best it ever has been, and that they may be depended on to do all that they have ever done.
